An aerial photograph of the Lignano Sabbiadoro resort. The image shows a dense urban area with various buildings, including a prominent water tower. In the foreground, there is a large sandy beach with many colorful umbrellas. A long, white, arched pier extends from the beach into the turquoise water. At the end of the pier is a large, modern building with a curved roof, which appears to be a restaurant or club. The background shows the Marano Lagoon and the Adriatic Sea.
